

Qwikkit's construction method, called DuraBuild, features furniture grade MDF wrapped in a high-tech film laminate that is both heat and water resistant. Our DuraBuild doors are manufactured with the same materials on front and back, so they match perfectly. We offer a lifetime warranty against delamination.

Newer Technology ▶

Constructed with modern, state-of-the-art technology fasteners, designed for wrapped door frames.

Consistent Quality ▶

DuraBuild doors have consistently smooth, flush joints. At the moment of assembly, both sides of the joint are pressed against a single steel plate, insuring a high quality joint, every time.

Strong ▶

High-tech, engineered fasteners pull our joints tight, from the moment of assembly until the glue fully cures, and for years afterward. The mechanical tension, plus the glue's strength makes a doubly strong joint.

Quality Control ▶

The quality of the joint is fully controlled by one machine operator. There is only one possible failure point. If our internal QC team detects a bad joint, it's easy to trace and uncover the error and correct immediately.

No Hidden Issues ▶

The fasteners in our joints can be inspected from the back of the door. It's easy to check and confirm the fasteners are in place.
